

Tricia Skye

Tricia Skye began playing French horn with the San Diego Symphony Orchestra in 1998. Prior to that, she studied privately with Jerry Folsom, former co-principal horn of the Los Angeles Philharmonic, as well as with James Decker and Joseph Meyer, both studio musicians. After finishing high school Ms. Skye played principal horn with the Debut Orchestra and the American Youth Symphony under the baton of Mehli Mehta. At the age of 20 Ms. Skye won a position with the Philharmonic of the Nations, a touring orchestra based out of Germany; she spent the next year traveling and performing all over the world.

After returning to Los Angeles, Ms. Skye worked as a recording musician, playing for numerous records, television shows and movies. Ms. Skye has performed concerts with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, Toronto Symphony, Phoenix Symphony and the Louisiana Philharmonic as well as the Mainly Mozart festival in San Diego and the former San Diego Chamber Orchestra.

---

GETTING TO KNOW TRICIA SKYE...

Q: How did you choose your instrument?

A: I had to choose an instrument for my elementary school 5th grade band.

Q: What are three of your favorite movies?

A: The Princess Bride, Galaxy Quest, Star Trek ('09)

Q: What is your favorite travel destination?

A: New Orleans

Q: What good book have you read lately?

A: The Paleo Solution by Robb Wolf

Q: What is your choice for dining in San Diego?

A: My backyard BBQ

Q: Where might you be found on a Saturday night if you're not performing with the Orchestra?

A: At home with my husband cooking dinner and watching movies.